

MINISTRY TO MOVEMENT

Building a Great Commission Movement from Your Campus

Instructor: Dr. Steve Shadrach

Doctor of Ministry, Church and ParaChurch Executive Leadership

Email: Steve.Shadrach@mobilization.org

Dates: Tuesday through Friday, September 25-28 (Approx 8 am—5 pm daily)

Location: Pasig City, Philippines

Course Credit: Past students have been able to obtain credit through Dallas Theological Seminary and Reformed Theological Seminar. Contact your advisor and submit the syllabus to work out arrangements for getting graduate credit.

Certificate Offered: All others not taking it for seminary credit will be taking it for Certificate. All the requirements are exactly the same. No one is allowed to attend the class without being fully prepared before day one.

I. Course Description

What are the biblical, historical, philosophical, cultural, and strategic dimensions of stepping onto a college campus to initiate and develop an impactful student ministry? We will seek to understand the different kinds of campuses, students, and ministry approaches, putting special emphasis on how to develop a campus-wide movement focused on evangelism, disciple-making, and mission mobilization. How do you create a magnetic momentum, generational multiplication, and organized management system to sustain your movement? And most importantly, we will study and evaluate what knowledge, skills, character, and vision the godly and effective campus minister must possess to produce a fruitful, enduring, and worldwide legacy.

II. Course Objectives

- The student will know some of the major student movements throughout history and the lessons and principles we can learn from them.
- The student will understand and apply various Biblical passages and principles to their lives and ministries with college students.
- The student will understand the required knowledge, skills, character, and vision to start and grow a campus ministry.
- The student will understand the difference between a ministry and a movement.
- The student will understand the basics of fulfilling the Great Commission: personal evangelism, discipling, and mission mobilization.
- The student will read, digest, and articulate the principles from several classic books pertaining to reaching college students.
- The student will become familiar with numerous tools, resources, and best practices related to reaching college students.
- The student will discuss and understand various trends, questions, and issues that students and campus workers are currently faced with.
- The student will craft a comprehensive plan of how to launch, grow, and multiply a campus ministry movement from a single college campus.
- The student will interact with the professor and other students to evaluate their own life and ministry and future goals and strategy.

III. Required Texts

- Coleman, Robert E., The Master Plan of Evangelism, Revell: 1963
 - Addison, Steve, Movements That Change the World: Five Keys to Spreading the Gospel, IVP Books: 2011
 - Shadrach, Steve, The Fuel and the Flame: Ten Keys to Ignite Your College Campus for Jesus Christ, CMM Press: 2003
 - Shadrach, Steve, The Heart of the Campus, CMM Press: 2016
 - Foster, Robert D., The Navigator, Navpress: 1983
 - CMM Staff, XPLORE and GO MOBILIZE booklets, CMM Press: 2014
 - Your Choice: Henrichsen, Walter A., Disciples are Made Not Born, Victor Books: 1974 or Eims, Leroy, The Lost Art of Disciplemaking, Zondervan: 1978
- Texts can be purchased on CMMPress.org or Amazon.org
--All are available in Kindle version except XPLORE and GoMobilize. We can make PDF version available if needed.

IV. Procedures and Methods

This class will be a combination of reading, responding, reflecting, planning, lecture, discussion, large and small group question and answer sessions, and projects. Each class the student should be prepared to discuss what they have learned from their reading/reflection assignments and take exceptional class notes.

V. Course Requirements/Grading

The class requirements are exactly the same whether you are taking it at certificate level or for seminary credit. To attend, you must come fully prepared. No exceptions.